1 Purpose and Scope

- a) Curtin College (the “College”) as part of Navitas is committed to providing a safe and respectful study and workplace that is free from sexual harassment.
- b) Curtin College aims to ensure that all staff and students and third-party contractors, understand their responsibilities and are:
 - i. Aware of the behaviours that may constitute sexual harassment;
 - ii. Informed in the prevention of sexual harassment;
 - iii. Know where to get support for themselves or others;
 - iv. Know how to report sexual harassment.
- c) Curtin College encourages the reporting of behaviour that is harmful and disrespectful so it can be addressed as part of UPA’s zero tolerance approach to sexual harassment in the study and work place.

1.1 Introduction

- a) This Sexual Harassment Prevention and Response Policy (“Policy”) sets out the approach of Curtin College and its partner provider relating to the response to and management of sexual harassment.
- b) Sexual harassment in our work and study places is an unacceptable form of behaviour, which will not be tolerated under any circumstances.
- c) It is not the intention of this Policy to interfere in personal lives and relationships; however, Curtin College has an obligation to take all reasonable measures to eliminate sexual harassment in the work and study environment.
- d) The effect of sexual harassment on those people involved can range from annoyance to deep distress and can lead to an intimidating, hostile and offensive work and study environment.
- e) Sexual harassment can contribute to reduced quality in work and study; low morale and distraction from work and study; absenteeism from the workplace and classes; student attrition and staff turnover and, poor health. Ignoring the impact of sexual harassment on the College’s community is simply not an option.

1.2 Purpose

- a) The purpose of this Policy is to set out the legal responsibilities and obligations of employees and students at Curtin College in relation to sexual harassment and relevant laws.
- b) It is not the intention of this Policy to interfere in personal lives and relationships except where they breach codes of conduct and policies relevant to sexual assault and sexual harassment (SASH) in the work and study place.
- c) It is the intention of this Policy to ensure that Curtin College takes all reasonable measures to eliminate sexual harassment in its colleges and on its campuses.
- d) The purpose of this Policy is also to:
 - i. provide a safe working and study environment, which is free from sexual harassment;
 - ii. support diversity and inclusive work and study practices;
 - iii. promote respect amongst all staff and all students;
 - iv. encourage fair and equitable treatment of all staff and students; and,

- v. ensure that staff and students have redress against sexual harassment in the work and study environment.
- e) Curtin College is also committed to respecting, promoting, supporting and implementing human rights as set out in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (General Assembly resolution 217A) and the values as set out in Navitas Pty Ltd (the Parent Company of Curtin College) Code of Practice (see: Values in Action and Speak Up portal).

1.3 Scope

- a) This policy applies to every staff member, student and third-party service provider, regardless of gender, sexual orientation, level, function, seniority, status or other protected characteristics.
- b) It also applies to contractors, service providers, clients, customers and visitors when they are engaged in Curtin College activities.
- c) It is applicable to all Curtin College locations in Perth and Singapore.
- d) This Policy has been prepared in accordance with relevant legislation as set out in 4.3 of this Policy.
- e) The Policy with associated Procedures sets out how Curtin College complies with relevant legal standards and regulations regarding sexual harassment.

2 Policy Statement

- a) Sexual harassment is unacceptable and has no place in the Curtin College community.
- b) No person, staff or student, must ever engage in behaviour which could be regarded as sexual harassment.
- c) Sexual harassment can impact anyone, regardless of their sex, gender identity or sexual orientation.
- d) Sexual harassment has no place in any aspects of employment, recruitment and selection, conditions and benefits, training and promotion, task allocation, shifts, hours, leave arrangements, workload, equipment and transport.

2.1 What is Sexual Harassment?

- a) Sexual harassment is unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature towards another person which could reasonably be expected to make that other person feel offended, embarrassed, humiliated or intimidated.
- b) A single incident is enough to be considered sexual harassment - it does not have to be repeated behaviour, but it can be repeated behaviour.
- c) The person engaging in unwelcome behaviour does not have to intend to be sexually harassing the other person for the behaviour to be considered sexual harassment.
- d) Sexual harassment is defined by the nature and the impact of the behaviour, not the intention behind it.

2.2 Types of Sexual Harassment

- a) Sexual harassment may include the following behaviours:
 - i. Comments about a person's sex life or physical build and appearance;

- ii. Comments of a sexual nature;
- iii. Leering and staring;
- iv. Unwanted touching such as brushing up against a person, kissing, fondling or hugging;
- v. 'Flashing';
- vi. Sexual gestures or imitating a sexual act;
- vii. Sexual propositions or repeated unwanted requests for dates;
- viii. Making promises or threats in return for sexual favours;
- ix. Sexual and/or Suggestive comments or jokes;
- x. Offensive telephone calls, text messages or sexually explicit communications on social media platforms;
- xi. Displays of offensive photographs, reading matter or objects;
- xii. Sending jokes or graphics of a sexual nature by email, internet, fax or mobile phone;
- xiii. Inappropriate advances on social networking sites and/or accessing sexually explicit internet sites;
- xiv. Unwelcome questioning about a person's private life;
- xv. Sexually explicit/offensive pictures, screen savers or posters;
- xvi. Unwanted requests for sex;
- xvii. Insults or taunts of a sexual nature;
- xviii. Pursue or flirt with another person persistently without the other person's willing participation.
- xix. Flirting with someone at an inappropriate time (e.g. in a team meeting) is considered sexual harassment, even when these advances would have been welcome in a different setting. Actions such as this can harm a person's professional reputation and expose them to further harassment from others;
- xx. Comment on a person's dress, sexuality or gender in a derogatory or objectifying manner or a manner that makes them uncomfortable.
- xxi. Stalking, sexual assault, indecent assault or rape (which are also criminal offences); and,
- xxii. The most extreme form of sexual harassment is sexual assault.

2.3 Inadvertent sexual harassment

- a) Sometimes, people who harass others do not realise that their behaviour is wrong. Curtin College understands that this is possible, but that does not make the respondent any less responsible for their actions.
- b) If there is even the slightest suspicion that a person does not realise their behaviour/s is sexual harassment as set out in this policy, they must be informed by their line manager, and requested to stop with immediate effect.
- c) Any request to cease sexually harassing behaviour should be in writing as well as conveyed verbally to ensure that there is a true and correct record of the request to modify behaviour.
- d) If your manager, a senior manager or member of the leadership team, teacher or customer is the respondent OR, if the sexual harassment goes beyond the boundaries of off-hand comments, flirting or jokes, the incidence should be reported to the College Director and the Human Resource Business Partner (if a staff member) immediately.

2.4 Disciplinary action and repeat offenders

- a) Employees and/or students will be terminated after the first complaint and investigation if they are found guilty of sexual assault.

- b) Employees found guilty of sexual harassment (but not assault) for the first time, may:
 - i. Be reprimanded and fined;
 - ii. Get a 'did not meet expectations performance' review; and,
 - iii. Have salary expectations and/or promotions frozen for a year.
- c) Students found guilty of sexual harassment (but not assault) for the first time, may be:
 - i. Reprimanded and fined;
 - ii. Subject to a hearing at a student disciplinary hearing; and,
 - iii. Temporarily suspended from classes in order to undergo mandatory counselling.
- d) Every effort will be made to protect and support the victim/s of harassment.
- e) A staff member (offender), found guilty after a second claim of harassment has been investigated, will have their employment terminated.
- f) A student (offender) who is found guilty after a second claim of harassment has been investigated will have their study programme suspended in line with student disciplinary policies and procedures.

2.5 Disclosure and support

- a) Care and consideration for a person's wellbeing is the primary focus of Curtin College in responding to any disclosure of sexual harassment and in addressing any report or complaint of sexual harassment.
- b) In considering the wellbeing of a person involved in a disclosure of sexual harassment, Curtin College must consider all implications with regards to that person participating in potential complaints and/or misconduct processes and investigations. These implications will be balanced against the College's obligations to address the possible misconduct and to provide a safe workplace.
- c) A disclosure will not automatically require a person to participate in a complaint process.
- d) Support will be offered in response to any disclosure of sexual harassment, regardless of location of the incident, whether or not it occurred in connection with Curtin College and whether or not a concern or complaint has been lodged.
- e) Curtin College recognises that the person making a disclosure of sexual harassment has the choice to report a concern or make a complaint to College and/or the Police and is entitled to be fully informed of their available options and the possible outcomes.
- f) Curtin College will take all reasonable steps to make staff and students aware of how to make a disclosure of sexual harassment.
- g) Disclosures of sexual harassment by students should be referred to the Student Counsellor (1st responder) in the first instance. The Student Counsellor and 1st responder team will:
 - i. Listen;
 - ii. Try to understand what is important to the complainant;
 - iii. Explain and explore options – enable the complainant to decide which is more appropriate to them;
 - iv. Consider the complainant's well-being and safety; and,
 - v. Discuss with the complainant what if any steps the College needs to take to ensure the safety of the College Community in order to avoid similar incidents occurring.

- h) All staff will undertake training on Responding to Disclosures of Sexual Assault; training will take place via an ELearning module provided by the Sexual Assault Resource Centre (SARC) HERE
- i) Disclosures of sexual harassment by staff should be referred to the College Director and the Human Resource Business Partner in the first instance.
- j) Concerns and complaints of sexual harassment will be managed in accordance with the Navitas Complaints and Grievances Policy and, as per the process flow in Appendix three, with a complainant and respondent being made aware of all allegations and counter-allegations under consideration and being given the opportunity to rebut information relied upon by decision makers.
- k) Where students experience sexual harassment on placement activities, the local procedures at the site of the placement should be used. Curtin College will ensure that the relevant College/Campus personnel are informed, and that appropriate action is taken to ensure the safety of students.
- l) Curtin College will comply with all mandatory reporting obligations; e.g. possible offences regarding students under the age of 18.

2.6 Dealing with Complaints

- a) UPA takes complaints of sexual harassment seriously and deals with complaints in good faith as well as, a timely, fair and sensitive manner.
- b) The complaint resolution process includes a preliminary assessment/investigation of all facts contained within the complaint. In the event that a preliminary investigation determines that on the information provided, the complaint is found to be frivolous, vexatious, misconceived or lacking in substance it will be rejected. The complainant will be informed of this outcome in writing.
- c) If a person is found to be responsible for harassing behaviour he or she will, depending on the circumstances and context of the harassment, be subject to a warning and/or other disciplinary action, inclusive of dismissal if an employee or expulsion if a student.
- d) Individuals who find the outcome of a complaint to be unsatisfactory have the right to seek further advice from an external (to Curtin College) agency such as the Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission; the Anti-Discrimination Agency or other relevant government agency including the Tertiary Education Quality Standards Agency (TEQSA). Each business unit will be able to provide both staff and students with contact information for external agencies.

Appendix 1: College rules on sexual harassment

1. No one has the right to sexually harass our employees and/or students. Any person in Curtin College who is found guilty of serious harassment will be terminated, regardless of role. Also, if representatives of our contractors or vendors sexually harass our employees or students, we will demand that the company they work for takes disciplinary action and/or refuse to work with this person/company in the future.
2. Sexual harassment is never too minor to be dealt with. Any kind of harassment can wear people down and create a hostile work and study place. Curtin College will hear every claim and punish offenders appropriately.
3. Sexual harassment is about how we make others feel. Many do not consider behaviours like flirting or sexual comments to be sexual harassment, thinking they are too innocent to be labelled that way. But, if something you do makes your colleagues or students uncomfortable, or makes them feel unsafe, you must stop.
4. We assume every sexual harassment claim is legitimate unless proven otherwise. We listen to victims of sexual harassment and always conduct our investigations properly in line with the principle of justice and fairness. Occasional false reports do not undermine this principle.
5. We will not allow further victimisation of harassed employees. We will fully support employees and/or students who were sexually harassed and will not take any adverse action against them. For example, in the case of staff, we will not move them to positions with worse pay or benefits or allow others to retaliate against them; in the case of students their study programme will be adjusted to accommodate the impact of sexual harassment.
6. Those who support or overlook sexual harassment are as much at fault as offenders. Managers and Curtin College's HR Business Partner especially, are obliged to prevent sexual harassment and act when they have suspicions or receive reports. Letting this behaviour go on or, encouraging it, will bring about disciplinary action. Anyone who witnesses an incident of sexual harassment or has other kinds of proof should report to the College Director and HR Business Partner.
7. Apply disciplinary actions uniformly. Employees and students of any sexual orientation or other protected characteristics (i.e., age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race and religion or belief), will be penalised in the same way for offences committed by persons without protected characteristics.
8. Speak up, we listen. Sexual harassment can exhaust those who endure it. Speaking up about this issue is often tough for fear of not being heard, not being believed, upsetting managers, teachers, colleagues and fellow students and challenging existing corporate culture. Curtin College will do everything possible to stop sexual harassment whilst supporting those being harassed. If we don't know what is going on, we cannot do anything about it, so Curtin College encourages staff and students to raise their voice on this issue to help Curtin College maintain and nurture a safe and happy work and study environment.
9. Behavioural examples. Sexual Harassment may include (but is not limited to) the following forms of behaviour:

Staring or leering at a person in a provocative manner	Deliberately standing too close to or brushing against a person as you walk past them
Displaying pornographic or sexually explicit materials such as posters and screen savers	Sending sexually explicit emails, SMS messages
Inappropriate advances on social networking sites	Sexual insults or taunting
Requests for sex or repeated unwanted requests to go out on dates	Making promises or threats in return for sexual favours
Intrusive questions or remarks about a person's sexual activities

Appendix 3: Third-Party Harassment Guidelines

1 Overview

- a) UPA's third-party harassment guidelines apply and aim to address student and/or employee harassment coming from people who may be visiting the College or providing third party services to the college .
- b) Curtin College will not tolerate this kind of behaviour, even if it means having awkward conversations with partners.
- c) Ensuring Curtin College students and staff are safe in our work and study environment is Curtin College first priority.

2 Scope

- a) These guidelines apply to everyone inside of Curtin College as well as those outside of Curtin College including vendors, customers, contractors, shareholders and any other people we are connected to or do business with.
- b) Curtin College aims to protect every student and employee, intern or volunteer regardless of level, function, seniority, status or protected characteristics like race, gender and sexual orientation.
- c) For a more detailed explanation of our stance towards harassment, please refer to our sexual harassment prevention and response policy and our sexual assault prevention and response policy.

3 Contextual elements

- a) Harassment is any kind of behaviour that humiliates, victimises or threatens a person, like directing racial slurs and making sexual advances.
- b) Even seemingly harmless actions, like a customer calling an employee constantly outside work for non-emergencies and without prior agreement, can constitute harassment.
- c) Innuendos, veiled threats and inappropriate or offensive jokes are all included in Curtin College's definition of sexual harassment.
- d) Harassment can happen in-person, over the phone, via email, on social media or through a messaging app.
- e) It can come from strangers or people you know.
- f) Anyone who objectifies, threatens or ridicules our students and/or employees is a harasser.

4 Harassment from customers

- a) Harassment coming from customers is often difficult to deal with.
- b) Employees might be reluctant to report customers, especially ones who are responsible for substantial revenue. This causes the customer's behaviour to go unpunished and continue.
- c) Please do not hesitate to report a customer if they behave inappropriately and make your life difficult.
- d) Reporting means that they will not harass you anymore and that we will also have the chance to protect other students and/or employees who would come in contact with the harasser.

- e) A staff member should report the customer to the HR Business Partner, via email or in-person and inform your manager of your report. If you have emails or other evidence, please attach them or bring them to HR Business Partner's attention.
- f) The HR Business Partner should inform the College Director.
- g) The HR Business Partner will investigate the claim and contact the customer to ask them to change their behaviour.
- h) If the customer is a business, the HR Business Partner with support from the College Director, will do the following:
 - i. Contact that business' HR department and file a complaint against the person who harassed the College staff member or student;
 - ii. Explicitly ask for that behaviour to stop;
 - iii. Ask the customer-company to assign another person as the College's contact; and,
 - iv. The College will push for this solution in three cases:
 - ✓ If the harassment from that person has happened to you or your colleagues before;
 - ✓ If the incident of harassment was severe (like a threat of violence or an explicit request for a sexual favour); and,
 - ✓ If you tell us you don't feel comfortable working with this person anymore.
- i) Curtin College will also discuss possible solutions on our end; for instance:
 - i. Remove the complainant from having to interact with that person's customer account; and,
 - ii. Assign another employee to take over interactions with that customer.
- j) Curtin College will not penalise you or retaliate against you in any way. Your working hours, salary/wage or other benefits will not be affected.
- k) If the customer-company ignores our report, or if the incident of harassment happens again and the customer seems unwilling to deal with the person responsible, we will dissolve our contract with that customer.
- l) If the customer is an individual, we will refuse our products/services until they correct their behaviour.

5 Harassment from prospective customers

- a) Salespeople and marketers interact with prospects every day. If any of these prospects harasses you:
 - i. Drop all interactions with them (like answering calls and sending emails) and report this to your manager. If somebody harassed you via email, forward those emails to your manager and HR Business Partner for reference.
 - ii. Leave immediately if someone harasses you at an on-site meeting. Please call your manager as soon as possible to let him/her know.
- b) Your manager will make sure that your performance metrics will not be affected due to a prospect's inappropriate behaviour. For example, you do not have to continue speaking to a harasser so that you hit your individual targets.
- c) If a prospect's behaviour negatively affects your goals (like revenue targets), talk to your manager. They will do everything possible to resolve this issue without negatively impacting your performance review.

- d) After speaking to your manager, please mark that prospect as unqualified in records kept on that person/company, so other employees will not attempt to contact them later. This will help prevent other employees from being exposed to the prospect's behaviour.

6 Harassment from vendors and contractors

- a) Curtin College's zero tolerance of harassment and anti-violence, applies to all of our vendors and contractors.
- b) We will communicate these views and related policies in writing whenever we sign a contract with another business.
- c) If an employee of vendor or contractor harasses you, please report directly to Curtin College's HR Business Partner. Curtin College's HR Business Partner will:
 - i. Report the person who harassed you to the vendor's HR department; and,
 - ii. Depending on the severity of the harassment, demand that either this person stops this inappropriate behaviour immediately or the vendor assigns a different employee to that position.
- d) If harassment continues after our intervention or our vendor ignores our report, we will take appropriate steps inclusive of dissolving our contract with this vendor.

7 Involving the police

- a) Curtin College will involve the police if a harasser stalks, assaults or verbally/ physically threatens an employee. This applies to all possible third parties from customers to investors.
- b) When harassers seem dangerous (for example, if a harasser refuses to leave the premises and threatens you with physical violence), call the police before reporting to your line manager and the HR Business Partner.

8 Manager's responsibilities

- a) Curtin College has an open-door approach (see Appendix 2), which encourages students and employees to share their concerns and thoughts with us.
- b) However, sometimes an employee or student may not feel comfortable reporting on harassment, whether it has happened to them or a fellow student or colleague. This is why Curtin College expects managers and student facing staff, to always be alert and ready to spot harassment towards their team members and/or students.
- c) If a manager suspects one of his/her team members is being harassed, or, a staff member suspects that a student is being harassed, they are required to talk to the team member or student to get more information. Assure them that they will not be penalised for reporting harassment from any source or position within a hierarchy and, that Curtin College is committed to protecting them from harassment.
- d) Inform the HR Business Partner of the conversation and act immediately to protect the team member or student (like assigning someone else to interact with the person who harassed them until HR Business Partner's investigation is complete).
- e) Managers must also make sure their team members' performance review and metrics will not be affected, or that a student's study performance will not be affected.

9 HR Business Partners' responsibilities

- a) When the HR Business Partner receives a report about third-party harassment, they must:
 - i. Ask for as many details and information as possible from the person making the complaint.
 - ii. Keep copies of the report with dates, times and details of incidents and any possible evidence in a confidential file. HR Business Partner should update this file with all future actions and conversations regarding this complaint.
 - iii. Launch an investigation following discussion with and advice from College/Campus Director and all first responders involved in the process.
 - iv. HR Business Partner should always maintain professionalism when communicating with third parties, while also showing that they take the matter seriously and want to protect our employees and students.
 - v. Inform the harassed employees and/or students, of the College's procedures and direct the staff member and/or student involved to the relevant source of legal advice if appropriate.
 - vi. Consider the wishes of the harassed employee/student (complainant). If an employee or student, says they do not want to interact with a harasser again, the HR Business partner should consult with that employee's manager to find a solution that will not penalise the employee and, the Student Counsellor to find a solution that will not penalise the student.
- b) The HR Business Partner, College management or individual line managers must not, under any circumstances:
 - i. Blame the victim;
 - ii. Conceal a report; or,
 - iii. Discourage employees and/or students from reporting harassment.
- c) If the HR Business Partner or a manager behaves that way, please send an email to the harasser's own manager or a senior leader explaining the situation.
- d) Curtin College welcomes any feedback or complaint about its procedures and how its employees handled each case.

10 Helping harassment survivors

- a) Curtin College wants to support the victims of harassment.
- b) If a staff member or student experiences trauma, stress or other symptoms because of harassment, the College/Campus Director will encourage the staff member or student to consider:
 - i. Taking agreed sick leave to restore mental health;
 - ii. Asking your insurance provider whether they cover mental health services;
 - iii. Talking to the EAP (Employee Assistance Programme) Officer to evaluate options (if a staff member) and the Student Counsellor (if a student); and,
 - iv. Speaking to designated counsellors or medical practitioners as appropriate.
- c) Job and benefits (if a staff member) or study programme (if a student) will not be jeopardised or altered in the event of choosing any of these options or other means of recovery.

11 Help Curtin College keep our workplace safe

- a) We all work best in environments where we feel safe and happy. We cannot control the behaviour of people outside of our organisation, but we can act to stop it.
- b) Please let us know whenever you are being harassed or witness others being the victims of harassment, whether the respondent is a customer, a student an employee or a partner.

Appendix 4: Curtin College's Open-Door-Approach

1 Purpose

- a) Curtin College's open-door policy in business reflects its commitment to transparent and flexible communication between managers and team members and staff and students.

2 What is an Open-Door Approach?

- a) Curtin College's open-door approach is simply the management practice of being available to staff as and when they need to speak with management i.e. leaving the door open to encourage communication. It is a practice that enhances communication across the College: i.e. between management and staff; functional teams and staff and students.
- b) The significance of this approach is that it translates into better communication, which in turn helps build a culture of trust.
- c) Curtin College's leadership believes this encourages innovation and growth, because everyone has valuable thoughts to share and our workplace and ways of working can always be improved.
- d) Curtin College ask employees and students, as the heart of our business, to be ready to provide positive or negative feedback, or share ideas that can help us thrive.

3 Scope

- a) Curtin College expects managers of all levels to keep their door open; and this refers to so much more than their office door. They should be ready to listen to their employees and students in person or over digital means (email or messaging apps).
- b) Managers should establish a culture of trust and communication in their team; this also applies to senior management who should remain approachable for everyone in the Division.
- c) Team members and students are free to communicate their thoughts with upper management.
- d) Of course, this approach extends to HR. If a staff member has concerns, ranging from compensation to workplace harassment, feel free to approach the HR Business Partner as well as the College Director.

4 Open door elements

- a) Managers should leave their office door open so employees can approach them easily to:
 - i. Ask for counsel or feedback;
 - ii. Ask questions about a subject;
 - iii. Express a complaint or concern;
 - iv. Raise awareness for a problem;
 - v. Ask for resolution to an inside dispute or conflict;
 - vi. Make suggestions for change; and,
 - vii. Discuss other personal topics.

5 Benefits of open-door approach in the workplace

- a) Curtin College is committed to the importance of open communication when it comes to innovation and improvement across the Division. More specifically, Curtin College hopes that listening to employees will help to:
 - i. Address employee concerns in time;
 - ii. Resolve disputes before tensions escalate;
 - iii. Provide timely and effective help employees who were victimised or harassed;
 - iv. Seize opportunities to improve processes; and,
 - v. Foster a culture of mutual trust and collaboration.

6 Manager's responsibilities

- a) As a Manager, listening to team members is part of your duties. You should always be ready to discuss important subjects (like harassment) as soon as possible, but you should also make time to listen to your team members' concerns or ideas.
- b) Action is also important. Our open-door approach aims to translate good feedback to better results. This means it's your job to follow through with improvements that matter. Use your judgment to determine whether you should pass information to your own manager or create a plan to address what your team member has told you.
- c) Always be transparent about what you are going to do. Do not promise anything that you are not sure you can deliver. Discuss with your team member, let them know your own thoughts and concerns. After all, communication works both ways.
- d) Of course, we expect you to take any negative feedback or criticism in stride. You must not retaliate (against or victimise team members. If you are not sure how to handle the information you received, remember: your manager's and HR Business Partner's doors are also open.

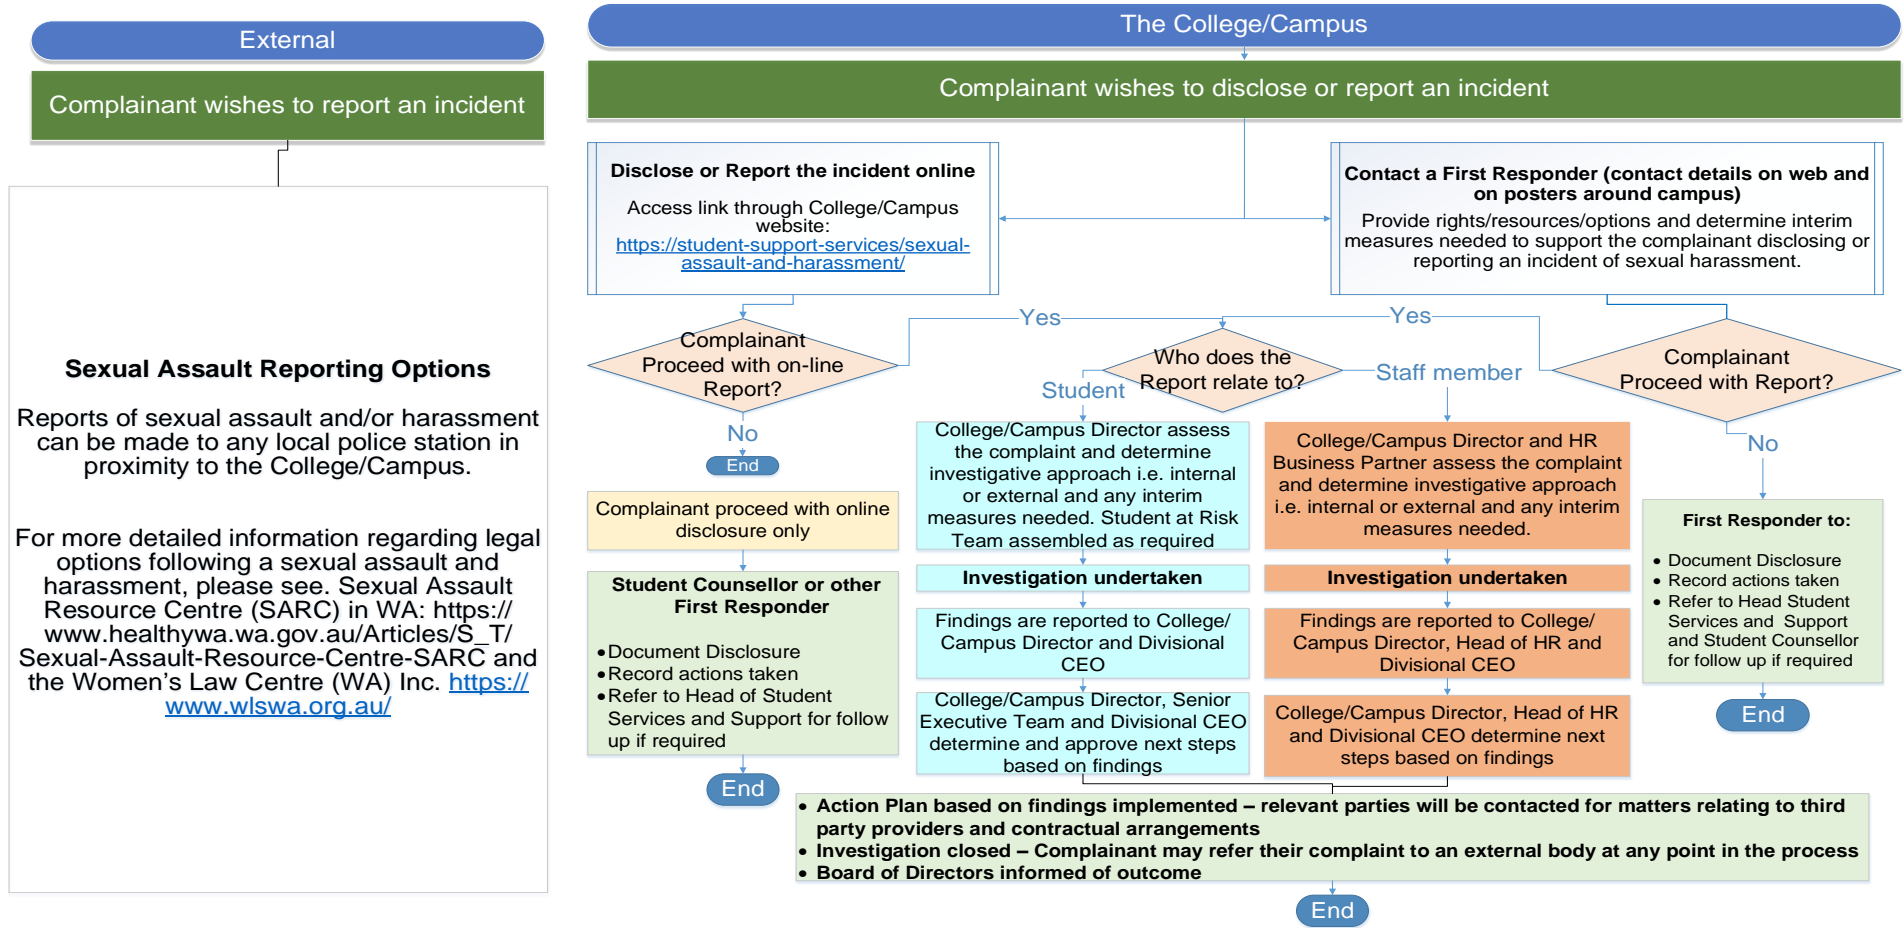

7 Complainants' responsibilities (Staff and Students)

- a) Communication is important and is built on mutual trust. This means that just as you trust your manager to listen to you, your manager trusts you to help them digest information better. So, we ask you to:
 - i. Ask for an appointment in advance, whenever possible, if you want to talk about a significant or delicate matter – it ensures adequate time to deal with important issues;
 - ii. Communicate with your manager whenever possible instead of going to a more senior manager first. The chain of command matters if concerns are going to be managed effectively, immediate escalation does not always result in the best outcome.
 - iii. You can bypass your manager in some cases: for example, if they are out of office, if they are involved in a harassment claim or they have consistently and wilfully violated the open-door approach (which you can report to Curtin College's HR Business Partner); and,
 - iv. Try to resolve minor disputes with your colleagues before reaching out to your manager. Trust and communication should work horizontally as well as vertically in Curtin College.
- b) In general, speak up when you have an opinion about something.

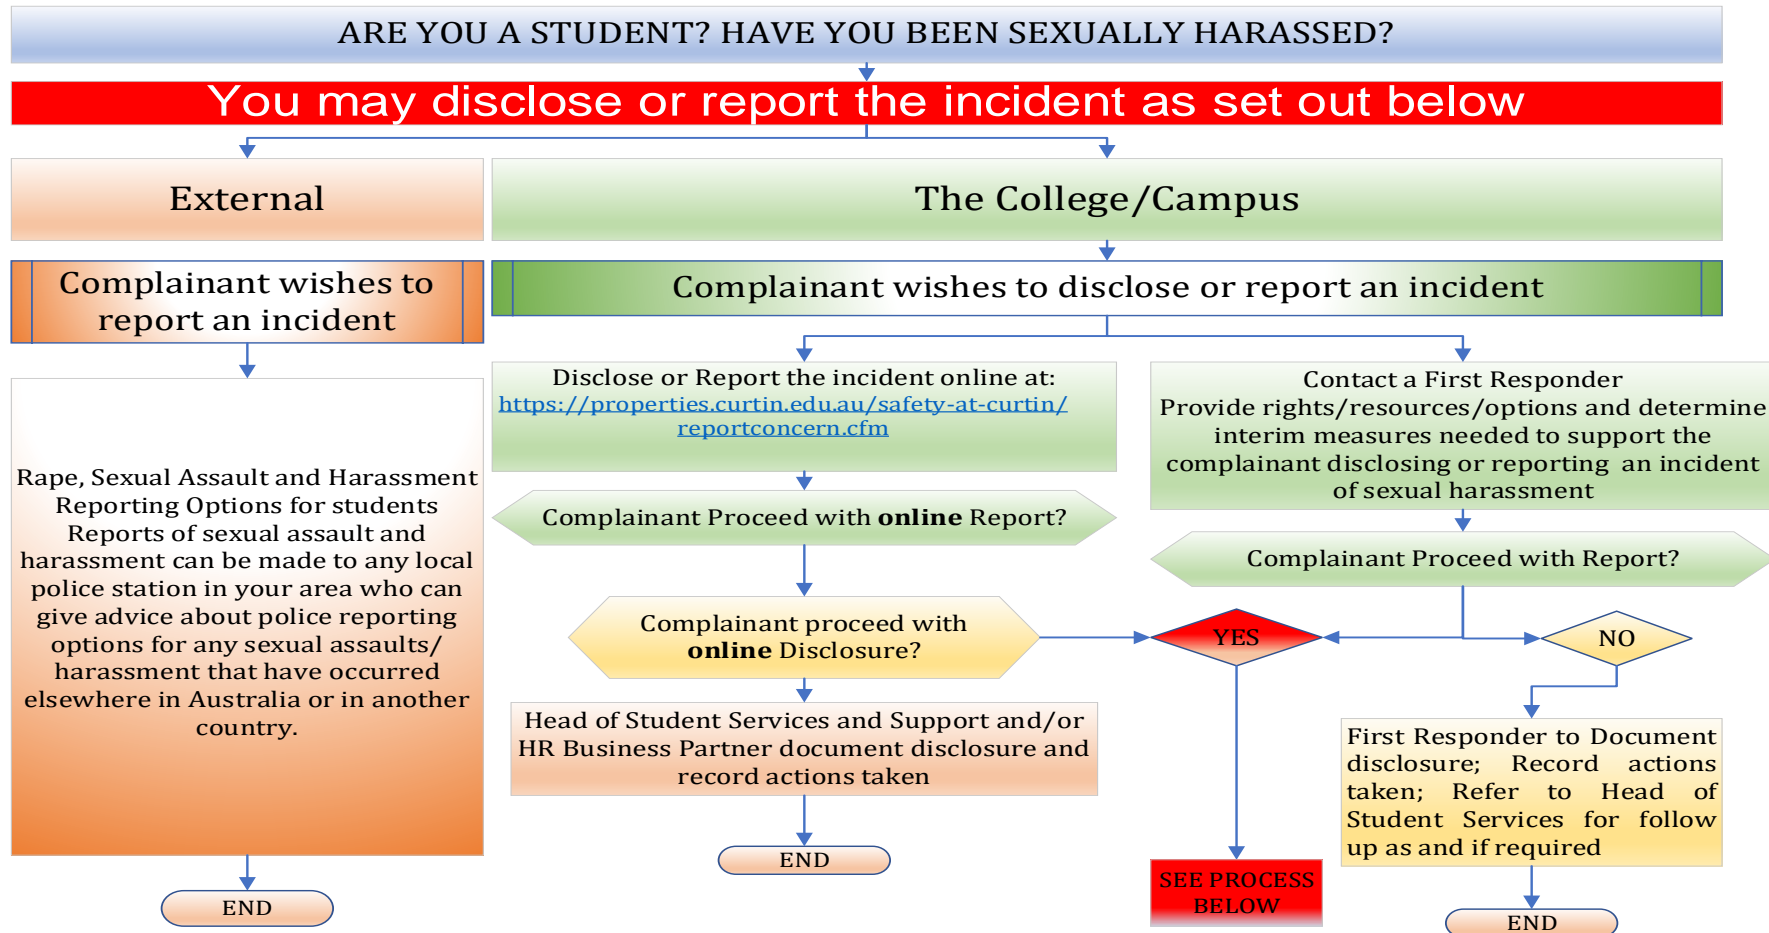

- c) Inform us when you notice harassment, victimisation or any violation of the code of conduct.
- d) We need all of you to ensure the work and study place is safe and pleasant for everyone.
